4 LANGUAGE: Adverbs of frequency and manner

4 LANGUAGE A Answers

usually, often

They go between the subject and the verb. (NB: They can also go at the beginning or end of the sentence, but it is best to avoid teaching this at this stage. Point out or elicit that if there is an auxiliary verb in a sentence such as 'They don't usually watch the parade' that the adverb of frequency goes between the auxiliary and the main verb. Adverbs of frequency also go after the verb to be.)

4 LANGUAGE B Answers

hard, passionately

They go after the verb or after the verb + object.
